

Cubes - a crocheted cowl

Design: Stine Gudmand-Høyer

Crocheted in warm and luxurious alpaca or cuddly naturgarn. The cowl is crocheted in a openwork pattern of offset archs. The openwork pattern makes the cowl very soft. The edging makes sure the cowl keeps its shape. The cowl is crocheted as a long rectangle and joined invisibly to a tube by crocheting the short ends together.

Pattern

The pattern is a mesh of offset arches. To get a straight edge the rows alternate between 14 and 15 arches on each row. One arch is made from 3 ch and a triple treble (trtr). On the rows with 15 arches the first and last arch are a bit smaller than the rest.

Version A

Made using a single color throughout.

Version B

Made using two colors (color 1 and color 2). There are 8 stripes using one color yarn and two colors of yarn respectively. The single color stripe is made holding two threads of the same colors yarn together (e.g. color 1 + 1) the two-colored stripe is made holding the two different colors together (color 1 + 2). See chart on next page.

Version C

Made using three colors of yarn (color 1, 2 and 3). There are 8 stripes using one color yarn and two colors of yarn respectively. The single color stripe is made holding two threads of the same colors yarn together (e.g. color 1 + 1 or color 2+2) the two-colored stripe is made holding the two different colors together (e.g. color 1 + 2 or color 2+3).
