Gaps - a crocheted scarf

Design: Stine Gudmand-Høyer

The gaps play the main part in this light and airy scarf. It is narrow and long, so you can wrap it several times around your neck on a cold day or leave it hanging to really enjoy the lacy crochet.

The pattern uses UK terminology.

Construction

The scarf is crocheted in rows from the short end. The stitch pattern is worked over two rows. The first row consists of chain loops anchored by trebles and on the next row a V-stitch alternate with 2 chains and a double crochet around into the chain space. Note that on the first row, the stitches are crocheted into the back loop – the little bump on the back of the foundations chain - to make a nice and stable edge.
